Description

Oil painting on Baltic birch panel. Rectangular. Depiction of an auto repair shop in the Banksville neighborhood of Pittsburgh. Building is two-toned, with a cream-colored first floor and dark brown second floor. Windows on the first floor are outlined in brown trim, and in the lower right section, dark and cream-checked squares appear to decorate the opening of a possible garage door. Across the front of the building on the second floor, painted in cream, is the business name and phone number. Across the top of the building are five windows, each with brown and cream-striped awnings over them. The shadows from the two awnings above the shop's sign cast shadows over the text. There is a square blue sign with yellow, red, and white colors attached to the first floor of the building in the center of the scene. The left side of the scene features green trees, and across the top is a light blue-gray sky. Artist's signature in the lower right corner painted in brown. Front of painting covered in transparent varnish. Sides are painted gray. Unpainted back. Text in black ink across top of back is title, below this on left side is the series number, and in the lower center section is the artist name. Wood cleat glued to center on back.
