Description

Twelve-ounce Koehler disposable beer can. Body is a one-piece cylindrical aluminum extrusion with concave base, fitted with crimped-on anodized aluminum top with detachable pull-tab closure. Semi-transparent color-lithographed direct label features a monogram trademark in a circle, placed on a scroll with fancy multi-line border, part of a motif which forms a band around the upper third of the container, and has beer name; remainder of label is a shaded copper to gold background. Maker's mark along bottom edge of container.
