

Dish, Banana Split

Medium

Glass

Description

Cololress glass banana split dish. The dish is composed of three flat sections: the base and ends, and the two sides. The base is raised in the middle and curves up at the ends to form the ends of the dish. One end extends further and becomes horizontal to form a handle. The two sides are curved outward and their sides are higher toward the ends dipping down in the middle. The edge around the dish is at a steep angle tilting away from the dish.
