

Bottle, Beer

Date

c. 2018

Medium

glass; paper; ink

Description

Brown molded glass beer bottle. Bottle is amber in color, and narrows at the top to form neck. Two mold seams. Label wrapped around lower section of bottle, with an oval-shaped sticker adhered to neck of the bottle. Sticker on neck depicts the Penn Brewery building, with a black banner with white text extending across image, and black text below. Background of oval is black and white, yellow, and gold-tone. Label is brown, with a gold-tone oval in the center. In oval, gold-tone border surrounds an illustration of a scene from a steel mill, with workers pouring molten "steel", which appears to be chocolate, into a chocolate container. Pittsburgh city skyline in the background. Bottom section of oval is a brown background, with dripping "chocolate". Black text throughout gold-tone oval. Off-white text printed on left and right sides. Barcode on lower proper left side of label. Embossed text around the bottom of bottle, and maker's mark on bottom. Bottle is empty.

Dimensions

Height x Diameter: 8.938 x 2.375 in. (22.7 x 6 cm)